To Whom It May Concern:

Close Up T.V. News created a wonderful segment for my Interior Design business. I must admit I was skeptical when they first called because I have been approached by other companies who promote videos and TV time and don't format their shows as they promise. Close Up exceeded my expectations. They provided appropriate professional staff, shot more than enough footage and put it together in a way which highlights diverse aspects of my firm, capturing my personality and creating a company image of an accessible professional.

I have used this footage as part of my presentation to potential clients and at Home and Garden shows. It acquaints the public with who I am and what I do, while showcasing my work, along with testimonials. Close Up has provided me with an exceptional marketing tool at an affordable price and made the experience fun and pleasurable.

Sincerely,
